EXPERIENCE

Freelance Editor and Content Writer (2020 - present)

In my role as a freelance editor, I've worked with clients in a variety of fields to develop, edit, and revise formal documents. Edited products include published scientific articles, short stories, operational procedures, graduate school applications, essays, requests for proposals (RFPs), and U.S. Citizenship applications.

Reader at The Hopkins Review (2021 - 2023)

Reading for The Hopkins Review, my objective was to be the first eyes on submitted work (including poetry, fiction, and non-fiction submissions) ahead of evaluation by the editing team. In this position, I honed my eye for strong writing, compelling narrative, and effective storytelling structure. The role was inherently collaborative, and I enjoyed learning to advocate for projects in verbal and written form.

Staff Writer and SAT Tutor at SoFlo Tutors (2021 - 2023)

As an SAT tutor, I worked closely with students to develop math, writing, and reading comprehension ability. I became SoFlo's primary English tutor, assisting students with AP language classes, creative projects, and essay writing, and the company later hired me to write educational and promotional blog posts, as well.
